

10 OHIOANS ARE KILLED IN ACCIDENTS

MAN AND WIFE BADLY INJURED IN AUTO CRASH

Car of Columbus Detective Collides With Bus Early Sunday Evening.

The steady rain Sunday, which made the new paving on the Scioto trail extremely slippery, caused the usual number of week-end accidents.

In the early evening two persons were seriously injured one mile north of the Mackey Ford rd when their car skidded and collided with a Columbus bus. They were City Detective John Wheeler and his wife of Columbus. Their children, who were with them, were not injured.

The accident was said to have happened when Wheeler, going north, started out of the line of traffic and saw the bus approaching. He tried to slow down, and his car skidded. The bus driver in an effort to avoid the collision drove the bus into the ditch, but the cars crashed sideways, and the Wheeler machine turned over.

Mrs. Wheeler received a deep cut on her left shoulder which is thought to have penetrated her lung. She had other cuts and Mr. Wheeler suffered a broken shoulder and had numerous bruises and cuts. None of the bus passengers was injured. A bus was quickly dispatched from Columbus and the passengers transferred to continue their journey.

An ambulance from Columbus took the injured to Mercy hospital.

A few minutes after the accident, traffic became so congested at the spot that Deputy Sheriff Miller Eisele was called to direct the machines. The road was not cleared for half an hour after the wreck. A wrecking car sent out for the bus ran off the road and into a ditch two miles south of Columbus.

Another accident later Sunday evening occurred at Bell's siding. A Hupmobile in which Oscar Youngdale and wife of Ashland, Ky., were occupants, skidded and ran over the embankment, and turned over on its side. When motorists reached them they were dazed, and Mrs. Youngdale who had been riding in front was extricated from the back seat. Both were able to climb up the embankment, and were brought to Circleville where Dr. E. S. Shane attended their injuries which consisted of bruises. Mrs. Youngdale suffered a strained neck. The G. L. Schear wrecking car brought the Hupmobile to town where repairs were made and the couple continued their journey home.

BANK ROBBERS SOUGHT HERE

Two Bandits Get $5,000 In Columbus Hold-up—McCready on Look Out.

Police authorities in Circleville Monday morning were notified to be on the look out for bank robbers who held up two employees of the North High Savings and Loan Co. in Columbus and escaped with $5,000. They were two unidentified youths, armed, and escaped in a Hudson automobile bearing a Pennsylvania license.

Entering the bank, the bandits tied J. C. Reese, cashier, and Miss Myrtle Gillfillen and compelled them to be on the floor while the robbers rifled the safe and money drawers.

Circleville never was a popular spot for high powered cars, especially when bank robbers were abroad, and Officer McCready was on the look out for anyone who resembled the dashing desperadoes.

Livestock Gives Greater Portion of Income For Farmers of Pickaway-Co

Interesting Figures Concerning Sources of Profits Given In Report.

Some facts of interest concerning sources from which Pickaway-co farmers receive their farm incomes have been disclosed by the report compiled by the Bureau of Agriculture Economics through the cooperation of the Ohio Experiment Station and the United States Department of Agriculture. This summary shows that Pickaway-co farmers owned 68,000 head of hogs last year from which they received 26.2 per cent of their income; 10,500 beef cattle furnished 8.7 per cent of their income and 9,064 dairy cattle furnished 8.1 per cent of the income. From 13,000 sheep they received 1.8 per cent of their income. Poultry represents 9.1 per cent of the income and veal calves represented 1.1 per cent of the income, making a total livestock farm income of 55 per cent.

It is interesting to note the influence that power farming has had upon the number of horses owned in Pickaway-co. In 1925 there were 9918 horses owned by Pickaway-co farmers. January 1, 1928 there were 9244, which means a reduction of 7 per cent in the horse population during the three year period.

WHEAT LEADS CROPS
Pickaway-co farmers receive 45 per cent of their farm income from crops. Wheat representing 58,000 acres and having a production of from 1 to 1 1/3 million bushels, represents 20.2 per cent of the income. From 82,000 acres of corn producing from 3 to 3 1/2 million bushels, the farmers received 17.4 per cent. From 18,000 acres of hay, representing approximately 30,000 tons, they received 1.2 per cent. Their income from potatoes and general truck crops is 5.8 per cent. The oats crop, which has never been an economic crop, represents 3000 acres and around 80,000 bushels gives them .4 per cent of their income.

An analysis of these figures, says H. S. Lewis, county agent, indicates the importance of standardization to a cropping system that reflects maximum yields of quality grain and legumes which may be translated most efficiently into livestock production. Again the possibilities to be derived from well finished and properly graded livestock production is emphasized through the major income, which is derived from livestock enterprises.

NEW COUNTY NURSE NAMED BY BOARD

Miss Helen Bartholomew was appointed county nurse by the Pickaway County Board of Health at their last meeting. Miss Bartholomew, who is a graduate of White Cross hospital training school succeeds Mrs. Kathryn Brownell who resigned recently to accompany her husband to New York City.

Miss Bartholomew is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Bartholomew of Circleville.

Wreckage of Missing T. A. T. Craft Is Discovered On Side of Mountain.

GALLUP, N. M., Sept. 9.—(INS)—Bodies of six of the eight victims of the spectacular crash last Tuesday of the T. A. T. airliner, City of San Francisco were here today in a morgue.

A difficult all day task, broken briefly at Grants, N. M., for the formality of a coroner's inquest, ended when the bodies of Pilot Jesse Stowe, Co-pilot Edward Dietel, C. F. Canfield, the courier, the crew and M. M. Campbell, Harris Livermore and William H. Beers, passengers, had arrived here by pack train and auto ambulance.

The coroner's verdict was "death by airplane accident."

Deputy Coroner McBride at the inquest, turned over the trinkets by which the broken and charred bodies had been identified, to Valencia-co sheriffs.

BODIES IDENTIFIED.

Every body had been fully identified.

The bodies of A. B. McGaffey, Albuquerque lumberman and Mrs. George Reynolds, daughter of the superintendent of the T. A. T. airport, were sent direct to Albuquerque.

The body of Harris Livermore, banker and shipping man, was to leave tonight for Boston, his home.

Disposition of the other bodies still awaited instructions from relatives early today.

The theory that the City of San Francisco had been struck by lightning before it smashed into the south slope of Mount Taylor, 90 miles by tortuous trail from here, was not considered by the coroner's jury.

SPARKS CAUSE FIRE

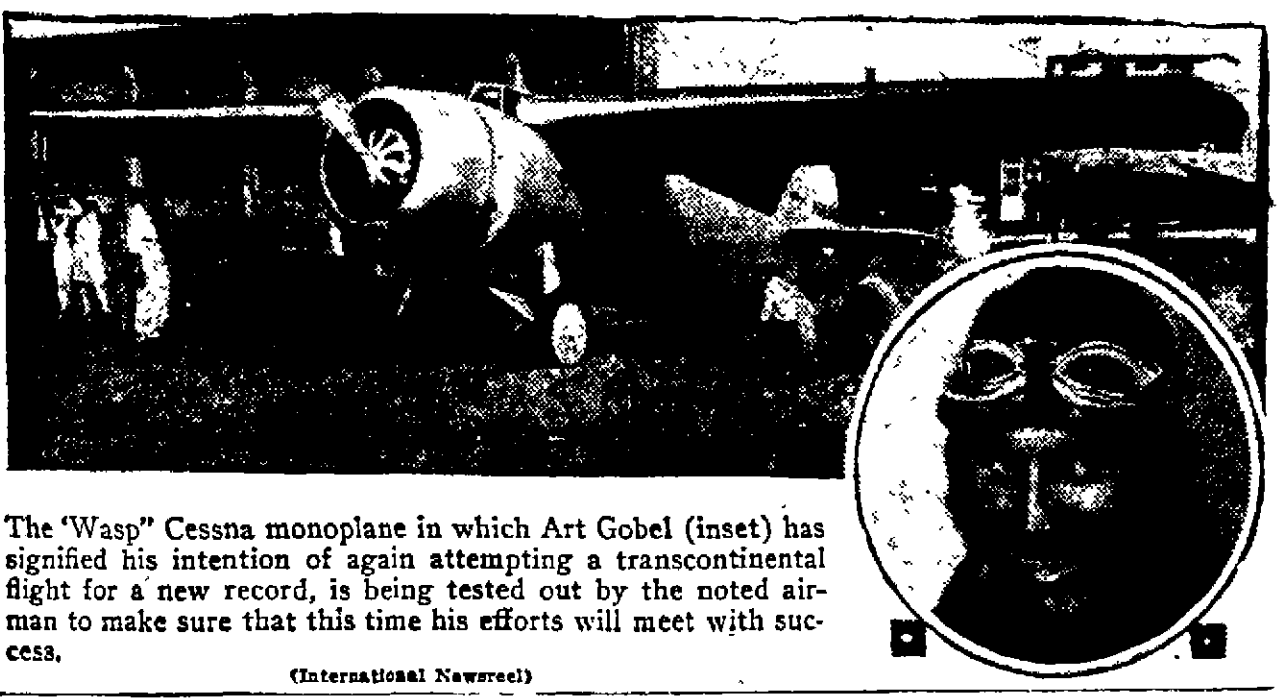

Fire which completed the destruction wrought when the palatial tri-motored all-metal ship, spurning dense rain clouds and bucking whipping winds, struck the peak, was probably caused by sparks from the ignition system, it was testified.

The City of San Francisco had turned back on its Albuquerque to Los Angeles course when Pilot Stowe found the storm too strong, it was apparent from the scattered wreckage.

The metal parts of the wings and fuselage cabin were strung along 300 yards of the rocky mountain slope.

Discovery of the wreck came Saturday when Pilot George Rice in a Western Air Express passenger plane with two crew aides and four men passengers flew over Mount Taylor, circled the wreckage thrice and sped on to Albuquerque to flash word to Los Angeles that terminated a five-day (Continued on Page Three)

'Back to Nature' Trip is Planned By This Fat Man

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—Wearing nothing but a pair of spectacles and carrying no equipment whatever, Burt M. McConnell, a large plump serious man, will plunge alone Wednesday into the unhabited wilds of northwestern New Brunswick for a three months' stay.

After a life devoted to sedentary occupation, McConnell has decided to get "back to nature" and experience some of the thrills and discomforts cavemen must have known. He leaves today for Fredericton, N. B., whence he will go to a place called Plaster Rock and dive into the woods to prove the ability of the modern city man to subjugate nature.

McConnell plans to light his fires by rubbing sticks of wood like the boy scouts do; fashion weapons from sticks and stones and stalk wild animals to furnish pelts for shoes and clothing. "I have very tender feet," McConnell said, "So I shall have to get after a pair of shoes right away."

McConnell's exact destination is being kept secret, for he wants no photographers to spy upon him conquering the wilderness in the altogether. But a local committee will escort him to his chosen spot in New Brunswick wilds to verify his story.

The adventurer hopes that in his peregrinations he will come across some traces of Nungesser and Coli, the French airmen lost in a trans-Atlantic attempt. He is confident they were forced down somewhere in New Brunswick, and he is going to keep his spectacled eyes open for them.

MURDER TRIAL OF 16 ENDED

Court Stops Hearing of Radical Strikers When Juror Becomes Ill.

COURT ROOM, CHARLOTTE, N. C., Sept. 9.—The trial of 16 radical strikers for the murder of Police Chief O. F. Aderholt, came to an abrupt end today when Judge M. C. Barnhill ordered a mistrial.

The mistrial was ordered after testimony was presented to the court that J. G. Campbell one of the jurymen, had suffered a complete mental collapse over the week end and was unable to continue service.

Judge Barnhill then overruled a motion by the defense to admit to bond the 13 male defendants held on a first-degree murder charge in the slaying of Police Chief Aderholt of Gastonia.

Earlier in the day counsel for both sides entered into a long conference to look into the legal aspects of the situation which suddenly confronted the court.

Shortly after the order of a mistrial, it developed that one of the defendants was not in the court room when the order was made. So an officer was sent to bring all of them back into the court room after they had been taken to their cells.

A few minutes later an officer reported the missing defendant was ill.

AUTOS CLAIM LARGEST TOLL IN TRAGEDIES

Fall and Shotgun Also Take
Lives, Statewide Survey
Reveals Monday.

COLUMBUS, Sept. 9.—Ten Ohioans lost their lives during the week-end, due to auto accidents, a fall and the accidental discharge of a shotgun, a statewide survey conducted today by International News Service shows. Auto mishaps caused eight deaths.

At least 16 other residents of the Buckeye state were injured, some of them seriously, as a result of auto accidents. One man is near death, due to attempting suicide with a razor. Another man was seriously wounded by gunfire of two robbers.

Four Putnam-co residents were killed in accidents Sunday. Claude Fruchey, 14, and Harold Bird, 23, both of Columbus Grove, were instantly killed when their car was hit by a train at the Main street crossing, Delphos, early Sunday morning.

Frank Lampier, 38, a deaf mute, of Leipsic, was killed by a Detroit, Toledo & Ironton freight train at a crossing near his home. Death of Leonard Walters, 34, of Pandora, occurred when the milk truck he was operating crashed into a culvert near Arcadia. The accident resulted when the steering wheel locked.

At Toledo, Edward Ogradowski, 21, is dead, due to wounds received Sunday morning when a shotgun was discharged accidentally.

John Herschberg, 60, is near death at Toledo as a result of wounds alleged to have been self-inflicted by means of a razor. Wounded by bullets fired by two robbers, Roy Morris, 22, is in a serious condition in St. Vincent's hospital, Toledo.

At Cincinnati, 3-year-old William Ferguson, Jr., met death when he climbed a radiator, lost his balance and fell from a third-story window at Deaconess hospital Sunday night.

At Springfield, Delbert Johnson, 30, taxi driver, met death beneath a Big Four passenger train which hit his cab at the York street crossing here.

Critically injured in an accident Mrs. Jennie Ralston, 66, Coshocton, is in the Good Samaritan hospital at Zanesville.

Mrs. Ralston and Mrs. Milo Maxwell, also of Coshocton, were injured when the machine in which they were riding, with Milo Maxwell at the wheel, skidded and overturned on the Dresden highway 15 miles north of Zanesville Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Maxwell was not badly hurt. Her husband, also, escaped serious injury.

Robert Williams, 20, of Cambridge, was injured at Hopewell, 14 miles west of Zanesville, when four autos collided on the national highway Sunday afternoon. His injuries were not serious.

Charles P. Daniels, 60, a deaf mute, died almost instantly at Columbus when hit by an auto driven by J. B. McElhatton, 28. Police arrested McElhatton on a charge of manslaughter.

When his car skidded, hitting a parked auto, Edward Gickhead, 23, landed on his head on the sidewalk, sustaining skull injuries which may prove fatal.

L. A. Peck, 45, was in a critical condition as a result of head injuries received when he fell off the running board of the machine driven by J. A. Needles. Peck, Needles said, was "thumping" a ride and fell off the car when it suddenly stopped for a traffic light.

Death of Harry Flannigan, 30, and of Sid Rees, colored, 50, at Cincinnati, due to auto accidents, increased the total motor car fatalities in Hamilton-co this year to 103.

How You Care for Your Mouth Determines to Great Extent What You Are and How Long You Will Live, Says Famous Authority

By ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It is given to most of us to lose one tooth at a time. The socket fills up and the loss is forgotten long before another tooth is extracted. What our teeth do for us however is so important that the loss of a single one is a real misfortune.

Don't just assume that you make a great mistake not to do so. A city which is most thrilling to begin with will grow speedily into a hole that will destroy its tooth.

It is at the tip of the mouth that an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure. Decay of a tooth can travel back to the pulp and fermentation destroy the pulp. Because of the lack of care these particles remain in place for a long time before they reach the teeth. EQUALIZING TAXES

A movement has been started to organize owners of real estate throughout the United States, in an effort to equalize taxes. It is claimed that under the state tax systems, which developed when national wealth was small, real estate is bearing about 75 per cent of the costs of government, which seems disproportionate.

One large factor in the difficulties that farmers have encountered for years past, has been the very heavy taxes on their farms. The assessors can see every bit of property these farmers own, and not much of it escapes taxation. Sometimes these taxes eat up a very large share of the returns of these farmers. Meanwhile many people of large wealth may pay relatively little toward the costs of government.

The matter is complicated and difficult, because the states all act individually on this question. If people feel that one state imposes an unduly heavy burden on a certain class of property, they will move somewhere else.

One form of taxation that has proved very practical and useful, is that of the tax on gasoline. While there will be a great deal of complaint if these taxes are much increased over the present level, still it will never pay automobile owners to be so niggardly with their money that the rough roads tear their cars to pieces. It would seem that the construction and maintenance of the highways should be largely paid by this tax.

As the federal government reduces its income taxes, it should be possible for the states to make some further use of this form of taxation. Whatever tax laws are passed are sure to be the subject of endless complaint. But the situation has to be met in a reasonable way, and if a state fails to raise the money for good roads and schools, adequate police protection, etc., it will fail to get its share of prosperity.

THE TOURIST GROWS CAREFUL

It is a tradition—started by whom and when, it is impossible to find out—that the tourist is the most careless, inconsiderate and thoughtless of all living mortals. Happily, however, it begins to look as if the tourist is mending his ways. A bulletin from Superintendent J. Ross Eakin of Glacier National Park, discussing forest fires in the national park, says that most fires now are started by natural causes, such as lightning.

"Carelessness in handling campfires, smoldering cigars, cigarettes and matches at one time presented quite a problem," he writes, "but in the last few years, thanks to the co-operation of park visitors, this cause has been reduced."

If the American tourist has learned the great lesson about taking care with fire hazards, the old tradition will have to be revised.

MUSICAL PLAY IN FILM

Richard Barthelmess, First National-Vitaphone star, in the role of David Carroll, young newspaperman in "Drag," the newest Barthelmess feature now at the Cliftona Theater, composes an operetta entitled, "The Love Prince," the music of which is reproduced via Vitaphone in the local presentation.

This is the second Barthelmess talking picture, the first being "Weary River," and it has been done completely in dialogue. The musical number featured in "The Love Prince" presentation is called "My Song of the Nile" and it promises to be a national song hit.

"Drag" is the story of a small town editor who marries into a "mooning" family, finally pulls himself away from them, goes to New York, sells his operetta and finds that happiness which was so lacking among his "in-laws." The story was adapted by Bradley King and dialogued by Miss King and Gene Towne from the novel by William Dudley Pelley. Frank Lloyd directed it with a cast headed by Lila Lee, Alice Day and others.

"ON WITH THE SHOW"

The color is soft and glamorous and has none of the eye-offending rawness which has marked other and earlier attempts at reproducing the hues of nature. Vitaphone, perfect in rendition of the speech and songs and music of "On With the Show," is given marvelous reality by this innovation. The story has to do with a company of stranded troupers, who, while their amusing adventures go on, are playing a musical fantasy known as "The Phantom Lover." The cast includes such screen favorites as Betty Compson, Arthur Lake, Sally O'Neil, Joe E. Brown, Louise Fazenda, Ethel Waters, William Bakewell, Fairbanks, Twins, Sam Hardy, Lee Moran, Wheeler Oakman, Harry Gribbon, Thomas Jefferson, Harmony Emperors' Quartet and a dancing beauty chorus of one hundred. The story is by Humphrey Pearson, the scenario by Robert Lord and Alan Crosland directed. Grant Clarke and Harry Akst did words and music and the dance and stage presentations are by Larry Ceballos.

"Don't," he replied, "No other baby in our family is like another baby in my old car."

LOTS CAN HAPPEN DURING A RECESS

PUMPKIN SHOW - OCTOBER 16-17-18-19

Blue Blood And Red

by ROBERT TERRY SHANNON

WHAT HAS GONE BEFORE.

Eddie Regan has been persuaded to give up his position as shipping clerk and join a gang, of which the "Big Guy" is the leading spirit. Bernice Veressi, gang girl, tells him he has at last been given his big chance and intimates that she is his for the asking after the "job" has been pulled off. Eddie realizes the gravity of the crime and, excusing himself, goes to the bathroom and escapes through the window. He hops a freight which takes him to Virginia.

Now Go On with the Story

CHAPTER III
WITH a package of food under his arm Eddie stepped out on the porch of the store. The proprietor followed him.

"Nice weather we're having, sir." The man was amiable, but he was too polite to express any curiosity.

"The weather's great," Eddie admitted. "That your dog there?"

"Yep, he's mine."

Eddie took the paper off the package and tossed a piece of cheese to the dog. A convulsive movement of the throat and the gift disappeared.

"You sure got a great animal there."

Once more Eddie shook hands with the dog and, because he was reluctant to feed his own famished stomach before his fellowman, he moved off down a dirt road that wound away between tracts of timber and neglected fields.

His whole life was now definitely behind him. He was like a man walking in a dream. His surroundings were so utterly unfamiliar that nothing seemed exactly real. Even the yielding earth, under feet accustomed to pavements, was oddly fantastic. And the air—his lungs filled with a clean freshness that was soft and balmy. . . . Strange, bewildering sensations stirred in his breast, and there were almost terrifying moments when he felt that he was alone and helpless upon the face of the earth.

He came to a lazy creek and went down to the water's edge to wash his face and hands and dried them with his handkerchief. Further on he came to a bend in the road where there was a grassy bank. He sat down to eat. With his back against a tree and his legs stretched out he partook, without undue haste, of his food. When he finished he drew out a pack of cigarettes and slowly inhaled the luxury of a smoke.

Over a distant field he saw three or four great birds floating in circles and he imagined they were eagles. He had never even heard of buzzards. The sun was getting hotter and his tired eyes slowly closed. There was almost no thought in his mind—he didn't want to think at all—he just wanted to forget.

And then, for no reason he could explain, his eyes suddenly went open.

A girl on a horse was riding in the road past him. They were not more than a dozen feet apart. She wore a riding suit and she was looking at him with the bluest eyes he had ever seen. Her blond hair was cropped, but there was a suggestion of ringlets. The sun had given an outdoor tinge to her complexion and, somehow, she was different from any girl he had ever even dreamed about. There was something aloof in the personality that looked at him with slight surprise in the eyes; something self-possessed and dignified and fine, with an evasive, indescribable beauty.

Funny—his mind flashed back to Bernice Veressi and in the flash of a second he was comparing the two. He couldn't understand why it was but, in the twinkling of an eye, his whole conception of Bernice had changed. Obscurely, he realized that the girl in New York would never again stir his senses. He was through with Bernice—for all time.

When the girl had passed out of sight Eddie was touched with a pang of mysterious unhappiness.

For a stretching period of time he reviewed the women he had known; all of them to be weighed and measured in comparison with the loveliness of the radiant girl who had ridden, so briefly, across his vision.

He saw the pale and dull faces of factory girls, the reddened cheeks and lips of the dance hall flappers, the free and easy girls engaged in manhunting on the

A girl, dressed in a riding habit, was walking past him. She had the bluest eyes he had ever seen.

She had crossed his vision and there had been a new kind of stir at his heart. Just for an instant the scales had dropped from his eyes and he had perceived something indescribably fine and beautiful.

She had reminded him of a delicate golden flower that was spiritually live with an inner vital flame. Some hitherto unfelt sensation reached and penetrated him with tremulous rays of light. His mind remembered her symmetrical body, the living blue of her eyes, the soft gold of her hair. But, stranger than mere physical beauty was the sweep of a peculiar refinement that lingered, achingly, around him like a faint perfume—that was the relic of an unknown sweetness gone beyond the possibility of recapture.

With every passing second the gulf between them widened; she was gone and there was no hope that he would ever see her again. Once more Bernice Veressi came back into his mind—sensual, carnal-lipped, reeking with hot-hot passion. In comparison with the golden girl, Bernice and all the others of her kind became in his clarifying understanding coarse and vaguely disagreeable with tawdry cheapness.

For a stretching period of time he reviewed the women he had known; all of them to be weighed and measured in comparison with the loveliness of the radiant girl who had ridden, so briefly, across his vision.

Search parties then were foraged at cattle ranches, small Santa Fe stations and by air.

SURVEYORS FIRST
T. A. T. and other airplanes gathered over the mountain like soaring eagles, while keen eyes and telephoto cameras sought to determine the facts from the air. No landing could be made within 120 miles of the peak.

The first to reach the wreck were members of a search party from a government survey camp on a shoulder of the mountain, 11 miles from the debris.

While the coroner's inquest was regarded as closed with the return of a verdict at the little railway station of Grants late last night, other inquiries were only starting.

The most serious passenger plane crash in the history of the southwestern aviation was to be probed thoroughly by the department of commerce bureau of aeronautics.

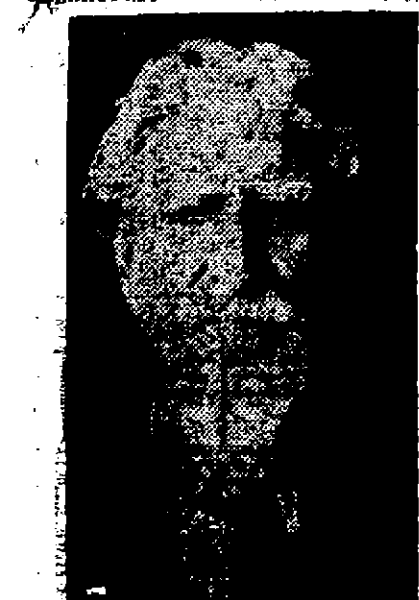

Major Clarence M. Young, commissioner of aviation of the government, had arrived by air at Albuquerque, Pacific coast headquarters of the T. A. T., to pursue the investigation.

"GOOD BYE RHEUMATISM!" SAYS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

To Civil War Banished By Spinoza Says Isaac Grabill.

Sixty-five years of suffering from rheumatism; misery from the time of the Civil War up to a few short months ago; and then, pain vanished, rheumatism driven away by three bottles of Spinoza. That is the record of this new tonic containing spinach in the case of Isaac Grabill, ninety-year-old Civil War veteran residing between Circleville and Chillicothe on Rural Route No. 6.

ISAAC GRABILL
Is it surprising that Mr. Grabill will be thankful for the rest of his life to Spinoza? Is it surprising that countless hundreds of former rheumatic sufferers daily call at The Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St. to gratefully recount the benefits of this super medicine in their cases? No, it is not surprising when such cases as Mr. Grabill's are on record. And his is not the only one. Spinoza makes no idle promises; it goes to work and quickly, quietly and efficiently attacks the causes of rheumatism at the root, driving from the body all rheumatic pain and torture. Thousands of residents in this vicinity have learned the powers of Spinoza and are thankful for their regained health and well-being.

Mr. Grabill speaks as follows: "Spinoza has driven away pain and suffering from rheumatism which has been with me since the close of the Civil War. Medicine after medicine I tried but no success. Finally I started on the Spinoza treatment with miraculous results. Gone are all rheumatic pains, gone are my indigestion and constipation troubles. And I have Spinoza to thank for all this. I can truthfully say that, at ninety years of age, I owe my health to this tonic."

46 ACCIDENTS HERE IN JULY

None of Industrial Mishaps Causes Death or Permanent Disability.

Industrial accident statistics compiled by the division of Safety and Hygiene of the Industrial Commission of Ohio, show that Pickaway-co had 46 accidents during the month of July. Of the total number, none resulted fatally, nine resulted in permanent disability, 7 caused over seven days loss of time, 10 seven days or less and 29 no loss of time but required medical attention. The total number of days lost by reason of accidents was 235.

Ohio industry as a whole filed 24,260 accident claims in July, which includes 108 fatalities, and the time loss due to accidents for the entire state during this period was 996,290 days, weighting each fatality as a time loss of 6,000 days, which is the basis used for computation.

Superintendent Thos. P. Kearns of the Division has set aside October as the second "No Accident Month" of 1929 and industrial employers and workers are urged to make a special effort in accident prevention in that month, considered one of the peak months in industrial activity. The excellent results secured by many Ohio plants which participated in the no-accident month in April, demonstrated the value of these special efforts in stimulating safety interest in Ohio industries and with the co-operation which has always been given these special drives, a material improvement in the accident experience of the state in October is expected.

One of the most unusual romances you've ever read—as timely as this very second and absolutely new in its idea and its development—is Robert Shannon Terry's smashing hit, which started in THE HERALD on Friday, Sept. 6.

"Blue Blood and Red"

This serial story, which is fast-paced in its action and in its kaleidoscopic shifting of scenes, plunges the reader into a gang meeting in the "tough" section of New York City. There a big silk robbery is being planned, and the hero of the tale, young Eddie Regan, is accorded the honor (if such it may be termed) of engineering the huge theft.

But a singular series of circumstances swiftly sends Regan to Virginia and there, under dramatic and unusual conditions, he meets pretty Marian Thorndike, daughter of a Southern aristocrat.

True love finds a way despite the difference between "Blue Blood and Red", but just when it looks as though their romance was about to culminate in a trip to the altar, the Tenth Avenue gang trace Regan to Virginia, and the handsome gang-girl, Bernice Veressi, comes back upon the scene.

What happens thereafter is swift and exciting. It would only spoil your enjoyment of "Blue Blood and Red" to even hint at the situations and climaxes. You'll have to read it yourself, so read every installment and enjoy every chapter.

IDENTIFY ALL BODIES FOUND IN PLANE RUIN

SURVEYORS FIRST
T. A. T. and other airplanes gathered over the mountain like soaring eagles, while keen eyes and telephoto cameras sought to determine the facts from the air. No landing could be made within 120 miles of the peak.

The first to reach the wreck were members of a search party from a government survey camp on a shoulder of the mountain, 11 miles from the debris.

While the coroner's inquest was regarded as closed with the return of a verdict at the little railway station of Grants late last night, other inquiries were only starting.

The most serious passenger plane crash in the history of the southwestern aviation was to be probed thoroughly by the department of commerce bureau of aeronautics.

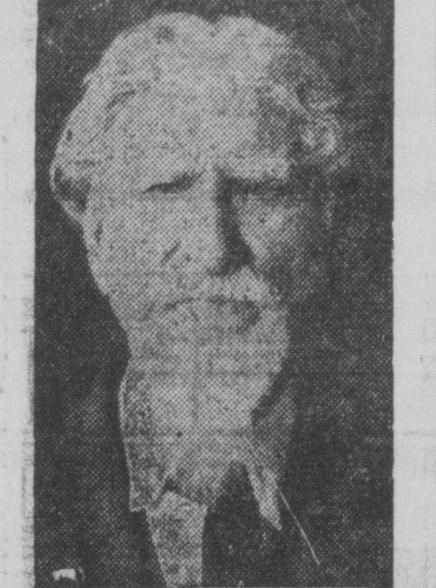

Major Clarence M. Young, commissioner of aviation of the government, had arrived by air at Albuquerque, Pacific coast headquarters of the T. A. T., to pursue the investigation.

The Only Way Out
The man was desperate. He paced the floor like a caged beast. Unpaid bills overflowed the desk to the floor. Finally the perturbed one returned to his desk and began to write. He was calmer now. This is what he wrote, "Dear Doctor. Inclosed please find $50, for 1 cab."

"GOOD BYE RHEUMATISM!" SAYS CIVIL WAR VETERAN

To Civil War Banished By Spinago Says Isaac Grabill.

Sixty-five years of suffering from rheumatism; misery from the time of the Civil War up to a few short months ago; and then, pain banished, rheumatism driven away by three bottles of Spinago. That is the record of this new tonic containing spinach in the case of Isaac Grabill, ninety-year-old Civil War veteran residing between Circleville and Chillicothe on Rural Route No. 6.

ISAAC GRABILL.
Is it surprising that Mr. Grabill will be thankful for the rest of his life to Spinago? Is it surprising that countless hundreds of former rheumatic sufferers daily call at The Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St. to gratefully recount the benefits of this super medicine in their cases? No, it is not surprising when such cases as Mr. Grabill's are on record. And his is not the only one. Spinago makes no idle promises; it goes to work and quickly, quietly and efficiently attacks the causes of rheumatism at the root, driving from the body all rheumatic pain and torture. Thousands of residents in this vicinity have learned the powers of Spinago and are thankful for their regained health and well-being.

Mr. Grabill speaks as follows: "Spinago has driven away pain and suffering from rheumatism which has been with me since the close of the Civil War. Medicine after medicine I tried but no success. Finally I started on the Spinago treatment with miraculous results. Gone are all rheumatic pains, gone are my indigestion and constipation troubles. And I have Spinago to thank for all this. I can truthfully say that, at ninety years of age, I owe my health to this tonic."

Constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, stomach, bowel and liver ailments, nervousness and lack of energy as well as rheumatism simply cannot withstand the powerful action of this medicine which contains as its most important ingredient that most valuable of foods, Spinach.

Spinago is sold and guaranteed by The Mykrantz Pharmacy, 107 N. Court St., and by all other good druggists in this vicinity.

165 PERISH IN SEA DISASTERS
Wave of Tragedy Sweeps Over European Shipping Within 48 Hours.

LONDON, Sept. 9.—A wave of tragedy and disorder has swept down over European shipping during the past 48 hours.

Total casualties in two of the three maritime disasters were estimated at about 165, many of the victims being children.

The Finnish steamship, Kuru sank off Tammerfors, Finland, while carrying 150 passengers, many of them school children.

A dispatch from Helsingfors said that between 80 and 100 bodies had been washed ashore, but previous estimates of the dead and missing stood at 150.

It is feared that 15 persons perished when fire swept the British oil tank ship, Vimeira off the Dutch coast.

The Nelson liner, Highland Pride grounded near Vigo, Spain, but according to late advices from Vigo, the passengers, numbering 60 or more, and the crew were rescued. The Highland Pride was reported to have sunk after being pounded by high seas for hours.

35 PRACTICE NIGHTLY FOR C. H. S. SQUAD

Outlook For Successful Season Is Bright, Coach Guthrie Says.

The outlook for a successful football season is very promising, according to J. M. Guthrie, athletic director of Circleville high school. About 35 men reported last week to undergo some hard training in gridiron practice, and all of the men are very determined to succeed in making a goal for themselves.

The boys are out on the field each evening and generally practice until 5 o'clock, during this time learning new plays and signals inaugurated by Coach Guthrie which he learned from Coach Knute Rockne during the summer.

Circleville high lost seven of its regulars and letter men last June by graduation, although many new faces have appeared on the field to take their places.

The football field, commonly known by other schools as the "rock pile," has changed very much in appearance. Grass is growing fast and by next year Circleville Hi will have an open stadium.

There are four lettermen back this year, who are: Iles, Davis, Rector and Hoffman, all of whom will no doubt hold responsible positions on this year's team. Ten seniors, two juniors, nine sophomores, seven freshmen and three from the eighth grade also have reported. The heaviest man is Harry Lutz, a linesman who tips the scale at 172, while Lawrence Styres, lightest man, weighs 115.

So far backfield material at C. H. S. is not so plentiful. According to Coach Guthrie, in selecting the team, he will take into consideration practice involved, those who are fast and quick on their feet and the player who always "gets his man." These will be the three main points.

The first game scheduled is with Marysville, which will be played there.

Information received from Marysville says that Circleville has a chance to defeat them, as some of their regulars and letter men are gone by graduation and others by ineligibility.

Circleville will journey to Marysville, Sept. 20 and will put up a real fight for victory. New suits, shoulder pads, socks and helmets have been purchased and the boys are ready to settle down and battle for the honor of their school. The boys who are out on the field each night, helping the school acquire a bigger name are: Loring Davis, George Iles, Bob Hundley, John Heiskell, Gaines Hill, Dean White, Albert Hoffman, Bob Rector, Maynard McCollister, Malcom Russell, Stanley Greene, Wilbur Adkins, Leon Gordon, Dwight Wilson, Frank Dunlap, Bob Adkins, Medford Good, Paul Wallace, Paul Rooney, John Lewis, Herbert

MRS. NETTIE A. PATTON.

"Konjola is the first and only medicine that brought me relief from five years suffering," said Mrs. Nettie A. Patton, Wade street, Ashtabula, Ohio. "My stomach was in a dreadful condition and it was hard for me to eat a decent meal because of the indigestion pains and gas bloating that were sure to follow. Rheumatism settled in my limbs and joints of my arms and fingers. I was confined to my bed for days at a time."

"After eight weeks—just eight bottles of Konjola—I was well; freed of all my ailments. Konjola restored my digestion and drove the rheumatism from my body. I can hardly believe I am the same person. Nothing merits of Konjola—it is wonderful."

GAME POSTPONED

The steady downpour of rain which practically fell all day Sunday prevented the baseball game which was to have taken place at the Utilities Park between the State Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Columbus and Ward's Ten of Circleville. Undoubtedly a swimming match could have taken place but not a ball game. According to Manager Ward, if possible, the game will be played next Sunday, Sept. 15.

RAIN IMPEDES GOLF TOURNEY

Only Three Matches Played In Championship Rounds At Country Club.

The match play golf tournament for the championship of the Pickaway country club, got away to a slow start Sunday because of rain.

Only three matches were played and one of these was halted by the weather. A. C. Moore defeated Felix Caldwell 4 up and five yet to play. Charles Gilmore defeated A. W. Phillips one up, and Mack Mader defeated Link Mader by the small margin of one hole.

The tournament will continue through the week, and the winners will then go into the second round. The second round winners will enter the semi-finals which will be followed by the finals which will be for 36 holes.

MONUMENT SHOP IS TRANSFERRED

H. M. Yokum, manager of Zenker Brothers, announced Monday that following the principle of centralizing production, the Circleville factory of the concern will be consolidated with the Columbus main shop, in Columbus. The local salesroom will be maintained as in the past, and a full line of fine modern memorials will be exhibited for the selection and approval of the memorial purchasing public of Pickaway and adjacent counties.

With the re-opening of the Circleville-Columbus highway the Columbus shops will be in a position to quickly and efficiently service all this territory, and the consolidation will effect a considerable saving in overhead and operating expense.

Miss Marguerite Barnhill has been employed as instructor of French in the Ashtabula Harbor schools, and has left for Ashtabula to begin her duties.

Did LEANDER SWIM the Hellespont?

TRADITION and Archaeology indicate that sports were introduced by the old Hellenes.

Early Greek statuary includes discus hurlers and javelin throwers—museum vases are decorated with sprinting matches—there are figures of boxers and wrestlers among the Elgin marbles. And horse racing is prominently featured on the Parthenon friezes.

Myth insists that Milo of Crotona—ancestor of all Corbetts, Dempseys and Tunneys—slew oxen with a single blow of the fist.

And we're equally assured that Leander made a nightly practice of swimming the Hellespont.

However, there is no circumstantial evidence to verify his claim.

Leander might have used a raft or pulled a "Captain Cook" for all that posterity is certain.

Legend takes his word for it—but legend is a notoriously careless and credulous reporter.

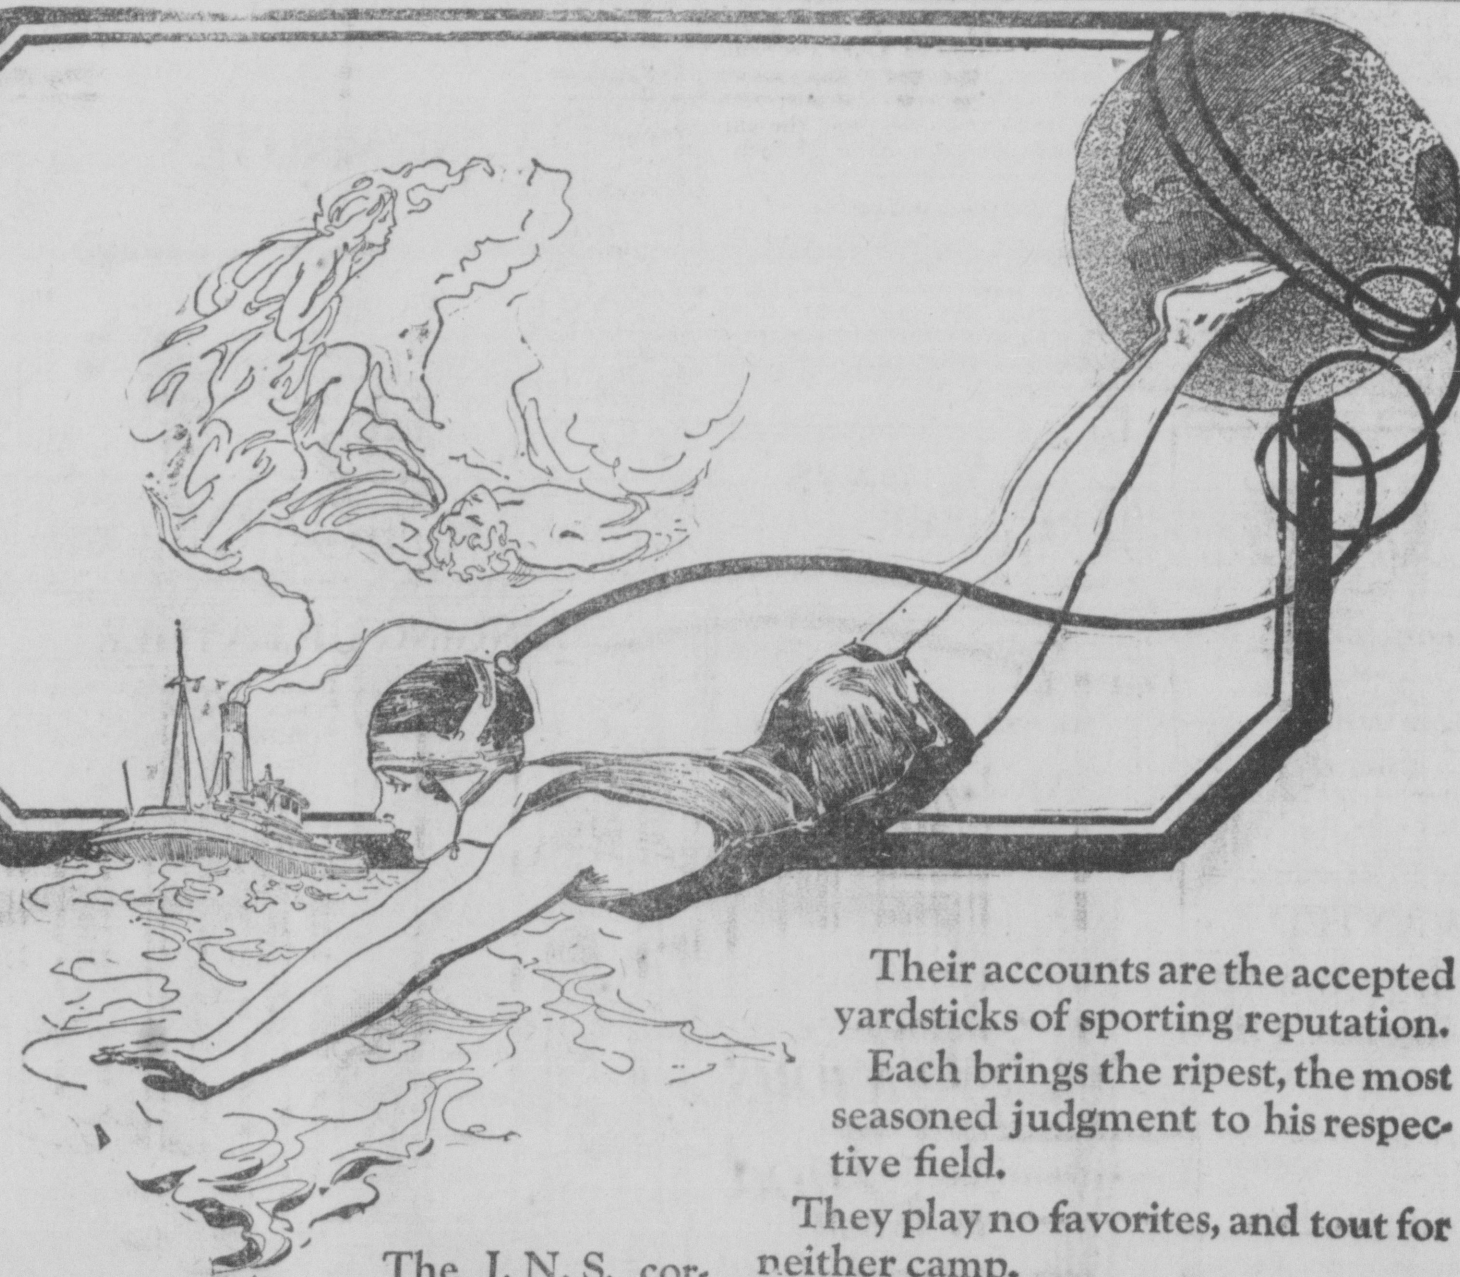

We're sure that Gertrude Ederle swam the English Channel because she dragged an I. N. S. cable into the water with her.

There's no record-breaking nowadays or anywhere, without the corroborating I. N. S. testimony.

I. N. S. men are present from start to finish; the camera cross-checks their dispatches and investigation regularly substantiates their statements.

GAVE NAME TO "JOYSTICK"

"Joystick" is the term given the world over to the control bar by which a pilot actuates the ailerons and flippers of an airplane and it originated from the name of its inventor, Joyce, a pioneer English aeronautical engineer.

The stick method of control has remained practically unchanged since the early days of flying, but with the recent introduction of large planes and flying boats, the wheel control is coming into favor for these craft.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

35 PRACTICE NIGHTLY FOR C. H. S. SQUAD

Outlook For Successful Season Is Bright, Coach Guthrie Says.

The outlook for a successful football season is very promising, according to J. M. Guthrie, athletic director of Circleville high school. About 35 men reported last week to undergo some hard training in gridiron practice, and all of the men are very determined to succeed in making a goal for themselves.

The boys are out on the field each evening and generally practice until 5 o'clock, during this time learning new plays and signals inaugurated by Coach Guthrie which he learned from Coach Knute Rockne during the summer. Circleville high lost seven of its regulars and letter men last June by graduation, although many new faces have appeared on the field to take their places.

The football field, commonly known by other schools as the "rock pile," has changed very much in appearance. Grass is growing fast and by next year Circleville Hi will have an open stadium.

There are four lettermen back this year, who are: Iles, Davis, Rector and Hoffman, all of whom will no doubt hold responsible positions on this year's team. Ten seniors, two juniors, nine sophomores, seven freshmen and three from the eighth grade also have reported. The heaviest man is Harry Lutz, a linesman who tips the scale at 172, while Lawrence Styles, lightest man, weighs 115.

So far backfield material at C. H. S. is not so plentiful. According to Coach Guthrie, in selecting the team, he will take into consideration practice involved, those who are fast and quick on their feet and the player who always "gets his man." These will be the three main points.

The first game scheduled is with Marysville, which will be played there.

Information received from Marysville says that Circleville has a chance to defeat them, as some of their regulars and letter men are gone by graduation and others by ineligibility.

Circleville will journey to Marysville, Sept. 20 and will put up a real fight for victory. New suits, shoulder pads, socks and helmets have been purchased and the boys are ready to settle down and battle for the honor of their school. The boys who are out on the field each night, helping the school acquire a bigger name are: Loring Davis, George Iles, Bob Hundley, John Heskell, Games Hill, Dean White, Albert Hoffman, Bob Rector, Maynard McCollister, Malcolm Russell, Stanley Greene, Wilbur Adkins, Leon Gordon, Dwight Wilson, Frank Dunlap, Bob Adkins, Medford Good, Paul Wallace, Paul Rooney, John Lewis, Herbert

The steady downpour of rain which practically fell all day Sunday prevented the baseball game which was to have taken place at the Utilities Park between the State Mutual Life Insurance Co. of Columbus and Words Ten of Circleville. Undoubtedly a swimming match could have taken place but not a ball game. According to Manager Ward, if possible, the game will be played next Sunday, Sept. 15.

RAIN IMPEDES GOLF TOURNEY

Only Three Matches Played In Championship Rounds At Country Club.

The match play golf tournament for the championship of the Pickaway country club, got away to a slow start Sunday because of rain.

Only three matches were played and one of these was halted by the weather. A. C. Moore defeated Edna Caldwell 1 up and five yet to play. Charles Gilmore defeated A. W. Phillips one up and Mack Mader defeated Lank Mader by the small margin of one hole.

The tournament will continue through the week and the winners will then go into the second round. The second round winners will enter the semi-finals which will be followed by the finals which will be for 36 holes.

MONUMENT SHOP IS TRANSFERRED

H. M. Yokum, manager of Zenker Brothers announced Monday that following the principle of centralizing production, the Circleville factory of the concern will be consolidated with the Columbus main shop, in Columbus.

The local salesroom will be maintained as in the past, and a full line of fine modern memorials will be exhibited for the selection and approval of the memorial purchasing public of Pickaway and adjacent counties.

With the re-opening of the Circleville-Columbus highway the Columbus shops will be in a position to quickly and efficiently service all this territory, and the consolidation will effect a considerable saving in overhead and operating expense.

Did LEANDER SWIM the Hellespont?

TRADITION and Archaeology indicate that sports were introduced by the old Hellenes.

Early Greek statuary includes discus hurlers and javelin throwers—museum vases are decorated with sprinting matches—there are figures of boxers and wrestlers among the Egin marbles. And horse racing is prominently featured on the Parthenon friezes.

Myth insists that Milo of Crotona—ancestor of all Corbetts, Dempseys and Tunneys—slew oxen with a single blow of the fist.

And we're equally assured that Leander made a nightly practice of swimming the Hellespont.

However, there is no circumstantial evidence to verify his claim.

Leander might have used a raft or pulled a "Captain Cook" for all that posterity is certain.

Legend takes his word for it—but legend is a notoriously careless and credulous reporter.

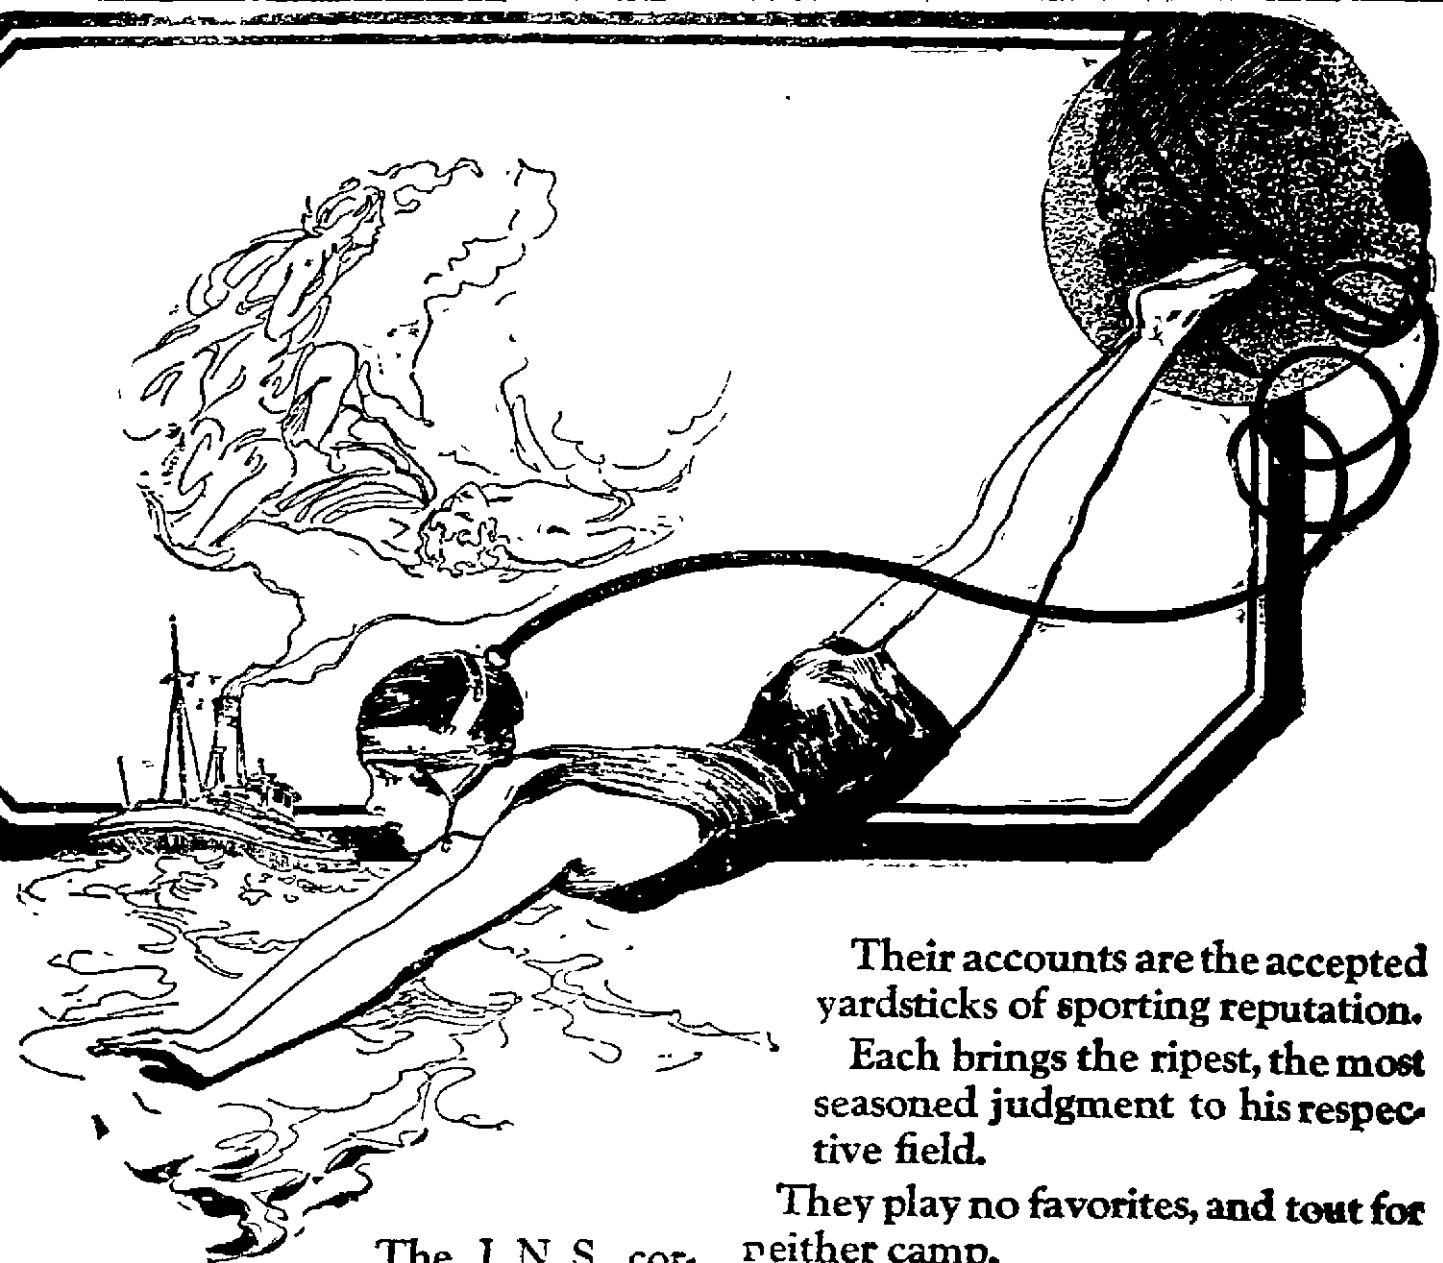

We're sure that Gertrude Ederle swam the English Channel because she dragged an I. N. S. cable into the water with her.

There's no record-breaking nowadays or anywhere, without the corroborating I. N. S. testimony.

I. N. S. men are present from start to finish; the camera cross-checks their dispatches and investigation regularly substantiates their statements.

Notice to the public

SUPPOSE you are today paying 50c a tube for your tooth paste (and there are many very good dentifrices selling today at that price).

Suppose, like most people, you buy about twelve tubes during a year. Now if you knew that you could buy as good a dentifrice as can be made and still save each year the price of 25 loaves of bread or 60 bars of soap or 40 pounds of sugar or a box of fine cigars—could you conscientiously fail to take advantage of such an opportunity?

That is exactly what you do when you buy Listerine Tooth Paste at 25c for a large tube. Figure it out for yourself.

BRIDE-ELECT IS HONORED

The supper-bridge on Saturday night at which Mrs. John Ryan of Columbus and Miss Genevieve English of N. Scioto-st were hostesses was a social compliment to Miss Cecelia Ryan of Columbus, whose marriage to Dr. John W. Lauferseiler will take place soon. This society event brought together the Circleville and Columbus friends of the hostesses and the honoree.

The seven tables were centered with deep yellow flowers in bud vases, and the mints and dessert further carried out the yellow and white idea. The place cards and tallies combined, were brides in honor of the occasion.

The rooms where the guests gathered were bright with autumn blooms, and great baskets of large dahlias helped to emphasize the color note. Clusters of smaller French dahlias and other dainty flowers also had a place in the decoration.

Mrs. Ryan and Miss English were assisted by their mother, Mrs. J. F. English and their sisters, Mrs. John Carle, Mrs. Margaret Stocklin, Miss Anne English and Miss Kate English.

In addition to winning the prize for second high score at bridge, the honor guests was also presented with a handsome gift from the two hostesses. Miss Allison Delaplaine received the prize for high score.

New Smokeless Steam "Locomotor"

Promises to Eliminate Smoke, Gas and Noise in Railway Transportation

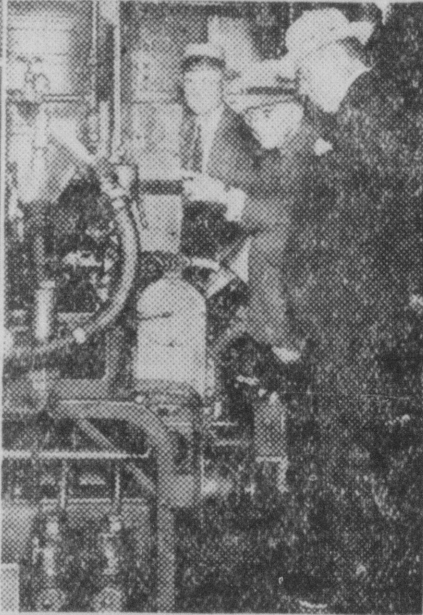

A new and unique high pressure steam engine that functions without smoke or obnoxious gases and operates without noise has been developed by the International Harvester Company, the first of which will be placed in service on The Milwaukee Road at once.

This new type of motive power is called the "Locomotor." During the past three years practical service tests have been made, in conjunction with The Milwaukee Road, by the Harvester Company and the Ryan Car Company, who are putting the car on the market.

The new unit uses steam at six hundred pounds pressure, generated as needed in a small compartment in the forward end of the car where the controls are located. Fuel used is ordinary furnace oil, and is burned so completely that there is no smoke.

Unlike gasoline exhaust, the gases are not poisonous. The steam is condensed and the water is used again. Engines are fastened under the car, permitting floor space to be used for baggage, express and mail. Journals are of the new roller bearing type, enabling the car to be started with a minimum of tractive effort and without noise or vibration. The number of coaches that can be hauled by the Locomotor is determined by the schedule and the grades encountered.

The Milwaukee Road has in mind various runs where the Locomotor promises economies in operation and benefits to the communities it will serve, while maintaining the road's high standard of service, and its performance will be watched with great interest by railroad officials, according to announcement from the railroad's Chicago offices.

This society event brought together the Circleville and Columbus friends of the hostesses and the honoree.

The seven tables were centered with deep yellow flowers in bud vases, and the mints and dessert further carried out the yellow and white idea. The place cards and tallies combined, were brides in honor of the occasion.

The rooms where the guests gathered were bright with autumn blooms, and great baskets of large dahlias helped to emphasize the color note. Clusters of smaller French dahlias and other dainty flowers also had a place in the decoration.

New Smokeless Steam "Locomotor"

Promises to Eliminate Smoke, Gas and Noise in Railway Transportation

A new and unique high pressure steam engine that functions without smoke or obnoxious gases and operates without noise has been developed by the International Harvester Company, the first of which will be placed in service on The Milwaukee Road at once.

This new type of motive power is called the "Locomotor." During the past three years practical service tests have been made, in conjunction with The Milwaukee Road, by the Harvester Company and the Ryan Car Company, who are putting the car on the market.

The new unit uses steam at six hundred pounds pressure, generated as needed in a small compartment in the forward end of the car where the controls are located. Fuel used is ordinary furnace oil, and is burned so completely that there is no smoke.

Unlike gasoline exhaust, the gases are not poisonous. The steam is condensed and the water is used again. Engines are fastened under the car, permitting floor space to be used for baggage, express and mail. Journals are of the new roller bearing type, enabling the car to be started with a minimum of tractive effort and without noise or vibration. The number of coaches that can be hauled by the Locomotor is determined by the schedule and the grades encountered.

The Milwaukee Road has in mind various runs where the Locomotor promises economies in operation and benefits to the communities it will serve, while maintaining the road's high standard of service, and its performance will be watched with great interest by railroad officials, according to announcement from the railroad's Chicago offices.
